

1 THE INSTANT AIR-BRUSH

Perfect Blur 5 Second, £12.99, Garnier
LAUNCH DATE: 8 April
CHOSEN BY: Joanna McGarry, Stylist's beauty director

"For me to consider a beauty product truly successful (read: find its way into my make-up bag), it should do what it says on the tin, but also be a sybaritic joy to use. This soft-focus effect primer has both bases covered. Light as air, the whipped-texture feels like strawberry mousse, while the combination of silicon elastomers instantly throw a colourless veil over my skin's weather-worn, porous surface, cleverly making it look infinitely better than it really is."

1

5 THE UNDER-EYE SAVIOUR

Sérum-4C Yeux, £65, Kéraskin Esthetics
LAUNCH DATE: 25 March
CHOSEN BY: Linda Palcic, skincare aesthetician

"Previously, in-salon treatments were the only solution for under-eye dark circles so I'm shocked at how effective results are from this twice daily serum. Vitamin C is a known brightener but this is the first product where four types have been stabilised to work together, correcting pigmentation and preventing it forming again. It's highly potent so needs to be used within four weeks but you'll see results before then. It's as if you're wearing Touche Éclat permanently."

5

9

THE TURBOCHARGED SERUM

Double Serum Complete Age Control Concentrate, £55, Clarins
LAUNCH DATE: 3 February
CHOSEN BY: Nathalie Issachar, doctor in pharmacy, skin biophysics and cosmetology

"For a product to get skin looking its absolute best, its ingredients must mimic the structure of skin cells (70% water and 30% oil) but oil and water aren't compatible. Clarins has created one formulation fusing the power of two. It instantly absorbs into skin, minimising pores and wrinkles and gradually increases firmness. I'm recommending it to everyone 25 and up."

2 THE SONIC CLEANSER

VisaPure, £150, Philips
LAUNCH DATE: 6 February (boots.com)
CHOSEN BY: Dr Sam Bunting, cosmetic dermatologist

"This is the most effective mechanism for un-clogging pores that I've seen. Unlike other brushes, the bristles are silky-soft so they don't irritate skin and it uses 'dual-motion technology', similar to an electric toothbrush. Vertical vibrations break up dirt, dead skin cells and residue blocking the pores, then a rotating motion sweeps them away. The vibrations also help reduce tension and increase micro-circulation prompting radiance. Skin really glows."

2

6

THE MEGA VOLUMISER

Instant Amplifying Volume Treatment, £14.99, Charles Worthington
LAUNCH DATE: 28 January
CHOSEN BY: Marc Trinder, hair stylist at Erdem

"Freshly washed hair and volume don't mix - silky, soft hair falls flat quickly, but this lightweight gel infuses hair with collagen, plumping up the cuticle and increasing volume by 93%. While volumising powders leave hair tacky and matte and serums produce shine but not volume, this combines the brilliance of both and is super-nourishing. Ditch powders, serums and conditioners - this is all you need."

3 THE FEATHERWEIGHT HAIR MOISTURISER

Coloured Hair Deep Moisture Soufflé, £4.49, Pantene Pro-V
LAUNCH DATE: 1 April
CHOSEN BY: Sam McKnight, global hair stylist

"Trying to style dry, damaged hair is an impossible feat. It's always tricky to combine intensive moisturisers into a product without leaving hair feeling greasy but - even though this contains three times the amount of a normal conditioner - the whipped, soufflé formula leaves hair feeling light. It's an essential in my kit."

3

7 THE INSTAGRAM FILTER FOR SKIN

Ambient Lighting Powder, £38, Hourglass
LAUNCH DATE: 1 February
CHOSEN BY: Kay Montano, make-up artist

"Thanks to Facebook and Twitter, we're a nation that obsess over images of ourselves so the idea of capturing flattering light in a product is genius. These powders are a new generation of make-up containing microscopic particles that reflect different lights according to the effect you desire. Dim Light blurs imperfections on dark skin while the universally flattering Ethereal Light, creates a lovely freshness."

7

THE ULTRA LUXE GLOW-GIVER

The Face & Body Gradual Tan, £65, Crème de la Mer
LAUNCH DATE: 1 March
CHOSEN BY: James Harknett, tanning expert

"You expect luxury from Crème de la Mer but this surpasses everything. After one use, skin doesn't only glow, it feels soft because rather than being a gradual tanner, it's an award-winning moisturiser containing tanning agents. It continuously hydrates ensuring even fade, no patchy build up, no smell and a gel-lotion texture that absorbs in seconds. The tan will be dialled down this summer; fashion-wise there's lots of monochrome so this is the ideal companion."

PHOTOGRAPHY: PIXEYES.COM, DENNIS PEDERSEN

10

4 THE QUICK-CHANGE NAIL POLISH

Edit Peel Off Nails, £6, Topshop Make Up
LAUNCH DATE: 15 February
CHOSEN BY: Sophy Robson, nail artist

"That peel-off polish from your childhood is back and is better than ever; this one dries in under a minute and because it's solvent-free it protects the nail's natural moisture so peeling it off doesn't cause any damage. The formula is quite thin so you'll need two or three coats for strong colour but there's no need for base or top coat and it still looks amazing. It's your must-have accessory for the season."

8

THE AGE-DEFYING FOUNDATION

Teint Visionnaire Foundation Duo, £36, Lancôme
LAUNCH DATE: 14 February
CHOSEN BY: Samantha Flowers, Stylist's deputy beauty editor

"Lancôme has infused this foundation with such powerful skincare technology that it's able to mimic the smoothing results of laser treatment. The in-built concealer contains a crease-resistant polymer and Vitamic CG which brightens as it conceals. After four weeks of wearing it, my bare skin actually looks better. I will be wearing it on my wedding day in May."

